

Matthew Putman

CEO

Nanotronics Imaging

matthew@nanotronics.co

Matthew Putman is the CEO of Nanotronics, a company that is revolutionizing manufacturing by combining Super-resolution, AI, and robotics to make the worlds most advanced microscope. Matthew holds a Ph.D. in Applied Physics from Columbia University. He has published over 30 papers and holds 14 patents for his work on devices, instrumentation, and software processes.

Matthew serves on the board of New York Live Arts, the Montauk Observatory, and as the Chairman of Pioneer Works. Matthew is also an accomplished jazz pianist, published poet, and has served as Executive Producer on several films and plays.